Jeffries Doing His Daily Task.
Gans at Golden Gate—
'Frisco's Victory.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Fitzsimmons, astride a horse, rode out on the road at Skaggs Springs at 5 o'clock yesterday morning, and acted as pacemaker for her husband on his ten-mile run. She kept her long-legged spouse at a merry canter the entire distance. Fitz cut out his sparring with Tom Wilson in his gymnasium work, and confined his attention to punching the bag and throwing the medicine ball. This was done because the big soldier is suffering from a sore jaw. Fitz expressed regret that he should have hurt his partner while sparring, "but he is a big strong fellow, and I have to stop him sometimes," he added, by way of apology. He has repeated negotiations with Hank Griffin, and the big negro may shortly join him. A bad cold in the head did not deter Jeffries from going through his usual routine of training work yesterday. In the hot sun of the morning he was out on the road, and in the afternoon he played handball.

LOSS OF THE DERBY.

ENGLAND'S BIG TURF SCANDAL.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, June 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Francis Trevelyan, the noted writer in the Telegraph this morning declares that the world is soon to be plunged into the greatest turf scandal in history, as the aftermath of the English Derby, won by Ard Patrick, and in which Sceptre, Sevier's peerless filly, was the favorite at the remarkably short price of 100 to 70. Trevelyan says Sevier lost half a million when Sceptre lost the Lincolnshire handicap, the first great race of the present English season. Common report said the plunderer went broke. Then followed the offer by Vanderbilt of $200,000 for the filly, which Sevier, for some reason, refused.

Trevelyan declares that the English bookmakers stood to win or lose £1,000,000 by Sceptre's victory or defeat, and that the opportunity was prodigious for some one to make a big fortune by the filly's defeat. Continuing, he says: "It was prodigious opportunity to make a fortune to an absolute certainty, and assuredly there were no past episodes in the career of Robert B. Sevier, ex-actor, ex-bookmaker and gambler extraordinary, to make any one suppose he would prove such a glib-edged, high-class and honorable sportsman as to turn up his nose at the goods the gods had strewn in his path."

The race was run and Sceptre was beaten. A few days later followed the ruling-out of Sceptre's jockey, Randall, the son of a wealthy British manufacturer. Randall was presumably punished for a later performance, but Trevelyan declares his belief that the real cause was the defeat of Sceptre.

PARIS ANTI-SCORCHING LAW.

TOD SLOAN A VICTIM.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
PARIS, June 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The police of Paris do not recognize wealth nor station in violators of the anti-scorching law. Americans are the first to feel the heavy hand of the law. Three were arraigned today, and sentenced to stiff fines and imprisonment. The French have apparently made up their minds to stop automobile scorching on account of many recent fatalities.

Tod Sloan, the first victim, was arrested while scorching on the Bois and was sentenced to two days in prison and fined a trifling sum. Gustave Warden of Chicago was arrested for scorching, and was also sentenced to two days and fined.

Tratford Hutson, formerly of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, was sentenced to eight days and fined $200 for racing and killing a shepherd near Fontainebleau.

Hutson pleaded that the shepherd committed suicide, and promised to erect a monument to him in the forest of Fontainebleau to placate his friends. He appealed from the sentence. All Parisians applauded the sentences.

GAME LAW UPHOLD.

SUPREME COURT DECISION.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—The Supreme Court today sustained the constitutionality of the new game laws. The court holds that all game is really the property of the State, that sportsmen kill animals only by sufferance and that the Legislature in granting favors can make what qualifications may seem proper. It is stated that the prohibition in reference to sale of game "does not destroy property right, because no such right exists."

The opinion is written by Justice McPherson, with whom Justices Henshaw, Garretts and Chief Justice Beatty concur. Justice Van Dyke, with whom Justice Temple concurs, dissents on the ground that the law discriminates in favor of sportsmen, and hence it is class legislation.

BERKELEY TRACK MEN.

EXPLANATION OF DEFEATS.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
OAKLAND, June 11.—The University of California's trackmen arrived here this morning. Men twenty-one and over, Manager Decoto made the following statement concerning the poor showing made by the athletes: "The trip across the continent was a hard one. The men were left in such a condition that it was impossible for them to get into any kind of good form. "Pia's defeat was due to his inability to throw from a grassy turf. His peculiar manner of wheeling his left foot in making three turns, made it impossible for him to keep his footing, and as a result he lost his event, although capable of beating any of his competitors if allowed to throw from soft earth. "The boys were treated like princes all over the country, specially at Chicago. The team's defeat there was simply due to poor form."

GANS AT GOLDEN GATE.

CRAPS LOSE THEIR CHARM.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Joe Gans, champion lightweight, matched to fight George McFadden June 23, before the Hayes Valley Club, arrived here today with his manager, Al Herford. McFadden arrived two days ago, and is now in training at Beach Tavern. Gans will work at Blanken's, and will probably go into training soon, as the fight takes place in a few weeks. Gans was met at the ferry by large delegation of colored sports, who were abstaining from craps to plunge on the champion.

AFTER DIAMOND SCULLS.

TITUS SAILS FOR ENGLAND.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
NEW YORK, June 11.—Constance Sutton Titus, the oarsman, sailed for England today on the steamship Victoria. He hopes to capture the diamond sculls at Henley. Titus took with him three pairs of sculls and his new boat, which is one-third shorter than the shells usually seen in races, as well as a great deal of lighter. He thinks the boat is worth a few pounds in the mile. Regarding the race at Henley he said: "Schools of Toronto, who beat me on the Harlem on Decoration Day, will be a factor in the race. I feel confident—in fact, I may say that I know—that I can beat them. I was not in my best form that day, and for that reason I did not intend to enter the contest, and came in the last minute. "However, I am not in the habit of making excuses, and if I am beaten at Henley I shall not worry. For any man to make a good showing in that fast company will be a great satisfaction."

Convention Indorses President and Pledges Itself to His Renomination.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

HARRISBURG (Pa.) June 11.—Judge Samuel W. Pennypacker of Philadelphia was nominated for Governor over Atty.-Gen. John P. Elkin of Indiana by today's Republican State Convention by a vote of 206 to 152. Senator Quay was unanimously chosen chairman of the Republican State Convention by a suspension of the rule requiring the State chairman to be chosen by the nominees and the presiding officers of the convention, and he will conduct the campaign for the State ticket. The platform indorses the administration of President Roosevelt, and calls for his renomination; reaffirms loyalty to the principles of protection of the constitution, for pure and honest ballot reform; condemns trusts; approves the action of the President and Attorney-General in proceeding against the beef trust, and makes no mention of the State administration. Pennypacker's nomination is a personal victory for Senator Quay. Elkin was formerly one of Quay's chief lieutenants, and when he became a candidate it was thought he was the Senator's choice. After delegates friendly to Elkin were elected in several counties, Quay advised against the Attorney-General's candidacy, in the interest of party harmony. Elkin declined to withdraw. Quay then made a public declaration against his candidacy, and when Pennypacker was suggested for the nomination the Senator tacitly indorsed him. Elkin was backed by Gov. Stone and other members of the State administration. Quay assumed direction of Pennypacker's campaign, and from the start predicted that Elkin would not be nominated. The hall was packed with admirers of Elkin and he was given a great ovation when he appeared. The customary motion to make the nomination of Pennypacker unanimous was omitted. William L. Brown of Lawrence county was nominated for Lieutenant-Governor by acclamation, as was Mal Isaac Brown of Erie for Secretary of Internal Affairs.

RENOMINATE GOV. HILL.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
PORTLAND (Me.) June 11.—Gov. Hill was today renominated by acclamation for a second term by the Republican State Convention. The Secretary of the Treasury Shaw was presented and made an address in which he discussed the tariff and the alleged cruelties in the Philippines as a possible issue in the campaign. The hall was packed with admirers of Elkin and he was given a great ovation when he appeared. The customary motion to make the nomination of Pennypacker unanimous was omitted. William L. Brown of Lawrence county was nominated for Lieutenant-Governor by acclamation, as was Mal Isaac Brown of Erie for Secretary of Internal Affairs.

DENIAL OF RUMORS IN REGARD TO EXTENSIONS.

Managers Have Enough to Occupy Their Minds, It is Said, Without Undertaking a War With the Expe and Rock Island. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, June 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "There is absolutely no truth," says a representative of the Atchison system, "in the reports that the Atchison system is planning an invasion of the Southern Pacific and Rock Island roads. The Atchison has no present plan such as outlined, and can say with authority that no such scheme will be contemplated for a long time. It is not in the sphere of our road to undertake such building, and I cannot see that the Atchison would be repaid for the outlay necessary to construct these extensions. "The changes and improvements which the Atchison is now making will occupy the minds of the managers and funds of the company to the immediate future. Such extensions as are reported to be in contemplation will require endless study and preparation, and it is not to be said they will probably be made in the near future. I am willing to predict that at no time will the Atchison take the necessary steps to construct these extensions, and it is certain that nothing would be done unless there was evidence that greater return would result to the road than can now be figured out."

HE'S A COAL BARON.

Ital's King Buys Eight Million Dollars' Worth of Lands in the Famous Pocahontas District of West Virginia.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, June 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Within the last few days, according to the report which reached New York last evening, King Victor Emmanuel III of Italy has bought with money from his private purse, 150,000 acres of the best coal land in West Virginia. The price paid was $9,000,000, or about $50,000.000.

The property is situated in the famous Pocahontas district, in which the best coal in the world is mined. It is the purpose of the King to have the land developed, and the coal will be shipped in large quantities, chiefly for use by the Italian navy, which has been taken principally from Welsh mines.

A Pittsburgh lawyer named Yeager is, according to the statement that the land has been sold, and to Italy's King, James Maxwell and A. Lewis of Pittsburgh, who are prominent operators in West Virginia, were present. Maxwell and Lewis are now in Italy, where, a day or two ago, they closed the deal personally with the King.

One Fortune Spent in Improvements

Another Fortune Shall Be Spent

No amount of money shall be spared to keep this beach distinctly the foremost as it is now. The of its popularity, of its value, of its attractions shall move faster yet. A moment's glance down the avenues with their pretty cottages (yet many cost but a handful of money), a glance at the grand pier, long row of the breakers mingled with the roll of the bowling alley, watch the return of lucky fishermen, long strings of fish and consider the costly and magnificent Pavilion to rival any similar structure on the beach and tell us then if your friends are not wise to invest their money into Ocean Park! Property returns a income in proportion to the investment at this beach than in any city or beach in California, and the cottages never began to equal the record of this year.

GOOD MEDICINE.

Many Sound and Witty Toasts at Banquet Tendered Graduating Doctors by the College Faculty.

The toast at the banquet tendered by the faculty of the College of Medicine of the University of Southern California to the alumni and the class of 1902, at the Van Nuys Broadway last night, were numerous and witty. Dr. George L. Cole was the toastmaster.

President Bovard of the university could not be present, and his toast, "The President of the United States," was responded to by Rev. Dr. Day of the First Congregational Church. He spoke of Mr. Roosevelt as the exemplar of the strenuous life, and urged unselfishness in trained physicians.

Dr. F. D. Bullard spoke of "Our First Dr." He said he thought at first it was a personal matter, but that when he turned his attention to the real question and investigated the cause of the excellence of the present class, he saw that it could not help it when the faculty was considered. He spoke of his own mathematical head—the part being greater than the whole—and ended with serious admonition.

Dr. Kate Wilde was the only woman on the program, and her topic was "Woman's Place in Medicine."

Dr. A. P. Wilson responded for the graduating class, "Les Infants Terribles," he called them.

The American Climatological Association was represented by Dr. R. G. Curtin, who remarked that his experience had found that at every visit to a boasted country something unusual or happy and contented, and that the past thunderstorms here as confirming past experiences.

Dr. H. S. Orme, who followed him on the subject of "Early Days," said, in part:

"As one of the earliest members of the Climatological Association and as many a journey, I don't know that there is a perfect climate in this world. In speaking of the early days, Dr. Joseph Curtis urged the adoption of an alumni association, and expected announcement of the position of the funds is not yet made upon."

COAST DEFENSES.

PLANS ARE COMPLETED.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—After several years of almost entire neglect, the general board of the navy is now prepared to demonstrate by practical test the soundness of its theories. Rear-Admiral Philip Cooper has been placed in charge of the preparation for war of the district extending from "Chatham Light, Cape Cod, to Barnegat Light, New Jersey." Rear-Admiral Louis Knapp has been given duty of a similar character on the Pacific Coast. These two officers will follow out the plans of the board by placing the defense of the coast which come under the direction of the navy in condition best to withstand a simultaneous attack by foreign fleet stimulated by the North Atlantic fleet on the one side and the North Pacific squadron on the other.

SLAUGHTER OF YAQUI.

ACCORDING TO COL. CHRISTY.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M. TUCSON (Ariz.) June 11.—Col. William Christy, president of the Valley Bank of Phoenix, just returned from mines on the Yaqui River, tells of a massacre of Yaqui, men women and children, yesterday in the Santa Rosa Canon, thirty-five miles from the Mimas Prietas mines, by a detachment of Torres troops.

The Mexicans numbered 700; the Yaquis, including men, women and children, over three hundred. The canon in which the Yaquis were encamped was a long narrow one known as Santa Rosa Canon.

Word was brought to Torres at Minas Prietas Sunday night that the main body of Yaquis had left the Santa Rosa Canon and gone further into the mountains, leaving their women and children in the canon with a small guard of soldiers. Torres dispatched 600 troops to block the mouth of the canon, and surrounded the Yaquis. His instructions were to kill men and boys capable of bearing arms.

The Mexicans secreted themselves along the sides of the canon, having blocked the entrance, and at daylight they poured a terrible and deadly fire on the unsuspecting Yaquis, killing men, women and children indiscriminately. Many of the killed were mere infants.

Address: St. Louis, Mo. 1000 Broadway, Chicago, Ill.

144 Roscoe Boulevard, Chicago, Oct. 19, 1900.—Gentlemen: About two years ago I had one foot in the grave, as the saying goes, and life looked pretty black to me; but then I read of Bright's disease, and I would give all I had to be cured, but nothing seemed to do me much good until a neighbor recommended that I try Warner's Safe Cure. It was with little hope that I tried it, but within two weeks my general health was improved and in four months I was completely cured. I hardly dared to believe that such good fortune was mine, but I have not lost a meal nor had an ache or pain since. Words seem but poor to express my gratitude. Yours truly, H. M. DROWNED WHILE SWIMMING.

STOCKTON, June 11.—P. Sorenson, agent at Oakland for the San Francisco Chronicle, was drowned in Middle River Monday evening while swimming. He leaves a widow and one child.

Fell from Roof.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—T. B. Christensen, a carpenter, was killed this afternoon by falling from the roof of a house where he was working. His skull was fractured.

Fatal Disease of Cattle.

GRASS VALLEY, June 11.—A disease resembling black leg, and called "Cattle Plague," has been found in California. C. J. English has lost eight head, and other ranchmen have suffered severely. Energetic means are being taken to stamp out the disease.

Probably Case of Suicide.

STOCKTON, June 11.—The body of Dennis Bourke, who had been a resident of Stockton for twenty years, was found floating in Stockton channel early this morning. He had been dead several days. It is believed to be a case of suicide. Laundry marks on the man's clothing furnished the means of identification.

Elks' Grand Carnival.

OAKLAND, June 11.—Five hundred workmen are rushing things today to complete the work of the Elks' carnival. A miniature city has been erected in the center of Oakland. Streets have been closed, so that the fair can be entirely enclosed. The city hall will be outlined with 750 lights, while 1000 lights will show up the Chabot Observatory. It is estimated that 7000 electric lights will be used, which will make a grand display in the center of the city. Already the local Elks have expended $10,000.

Born to Die in Bed.

GRASS VALLEY, June 11.—After being confined with tons of falling and Joseph Wallace has been rescued alive from a prospect shaft near here, and is now confined to his home. He was the chance of quick recovery. Wallace was one of a gang of miners at work in the shaft, but was below the others. Without warning a ton of rock from above came crashing down, burying him from sight. His horrified companions at once set to work to save his life, and succeeded in bringing him out alive.

WHEN EDWARD TALKED WITH J. PIERP. MORGAN.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

LONDON, June 11.—(By Atlantic Cable.) A crowd of several hundred persons, including a number of American sightseers, had gathered outside of the house of the United States Ambassador, Joseph H. Choate, on Carlton House Terrace, when King Edward and Queen Alexandra arrived there at 8:45 o'clock tonight, to attend the dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Choate. The police had to clear Carlton House Terrace of the many spectators who had congregated there, anxious to witness as much as possible of the remarkable tribute paid by Their Majesties to the United States.

When King Edward, Queen Alexandra and Princess Victoria, with their suites, drove up to Mr. Choate's house, the Ambassador, Mrs. Choate, Miss Choate, Henry White and Mr. and Mrs. Carter met them at the door. The American diplomats wore plain evening dress and black knee breeches. The King and his suite wore a dress exactly similar to that of the Americans, except that His Majesty wore across his shirt front the blue ribbon of the Order of the Garter.

Greetings had scarcely been exchanged before dinner was announced, and the party became somewhat mixed up. Mr. Choate found himself leading the Queen into the dining-room ahead of the King, who had Mrs. Choate on his arm. Previous to the beginning of dinner, special servants of Their Majesties, covered with medals, had arrived at Mr. Choate's residence and taken up their place behind the chairs at which the King and Queen were to sit.

In the beginning, the international banquet proceeded somewhat formally, but the vivacious humor of the King and Queen soon put the guests at their ease. Throughout the dinner music was rendered by an excellent band. Finally Queen Alexandra gave the signal, and the ladies rose and retired to the drawing-room.

Mr. Choate then walked around the table and took the now vacant seat next to His Majesty, and the King of Great Britain and the American Ambassador entered into a confidential conversation. Before the conversation had got well going, Mr. Choate went over to J. Pierpont Morgan, and brought him to King Edward, and for nearly the next half hour the American millionaire and the King talked earnestly together. Lords Lansdowne, port of destroyed buildings, injury to growing crops and razed fruit and shade trees.

Three lives were lost in McLean county, at Merna. The aggregate property loss in the county, not including thousands upon thousands of shade and fruit trees that were leveled, will be between $200,000 and $400,000, by agents' estimates. The tornado, which insurance up to tonight upon local agents have reached $50,000, and it is believed that this sum will be doubled. This amount only represents the loss in the farming districts.

The heaviest loss in proportion to population, fell on Merna, a village ten miles east of Bloomington, where the town hall, used by a dancing party of 250, was destroyed, three of the women dancers being instantly killed by falling timbers. They were: MRS. EDWARD MARTIN, aged 28, wife of a farmer; MISS LENA GAHAGAN, sister of Mrs. Martin, aged 23; MISS ANNA KELLY, residing at a house a few miles north of Merna.

When the storm struck the building, its awning and roof fell, and many merry-makers. All joined in a rush for the exits, and a fierce struggle ensued. About three hours later, the town hall was being pulled through a window by Clement Spencer, when the structure collapsed.

Spencer was hurt internally, and may die.

Many other persons were injured. At Merna, in addition to the town hall, the Kincaid Implement House was leveled, and many other structures destroyed. The new Methodist Church at Twin Grove was demolished, involving a loss of $10,000. Wesleyan University lost its roof and cupola, aggregating a loss of $25,000.

LINCOLN'S LOSSES.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M. LINCOLN (Ill.) June 11.—This city and immediate vicinity was visited at midnight by a destructive hurricane. Hard rain and lightning did additional damage. Public buildings, factories and residences were unroofed, and telephone and electric street-railway systems were badly crippled. Most of the streets are blocked with fallen trees and wires. The villages of Atlanta, Lawndale, Elkhart and others in this county suffered heavy losses on electric lines and buildings. Small groups of houses were blown down. The damage to a considerable extent. No loss of life is reported.

DANIVAR DAMAGED.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M. JACKSONVILLE (Fla.) June 11.—There was a severe windstorm here last night, but to damage to this immediate section has been reported. Danivari, on the Alton road north of this place, was reported wiped out just

KILAUEA VOLCANO THROWS OUT ASHES.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M. BURLINGTON (Iowa) June 11.—Burlington has been practically cut off from telegraphic communication since 9 o'clock last night. There were no lives lost in this city. Two hundred thousand feet of lumber broke from its moorings above the city and floated down stream.

Much other damage to property resulted. The steam chest broke in half and sunk, but no lives were lost.

DERAILED A TRAIN.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M. CORWATH (Iowa) June 11.—A tornado struck an empty excursion train here, the train a few miles east of here last night, and threw three cars off the track while the train was running thirty miles an hour. The engine and two last coaches remained on the track. No one was hurt.

VIOLENT EXPLOSIONS PRECEDE THE ERUPTIONS.

Earthquake Along the Hamakua Coast of Considerable Severity Occurred a Few Days Before the Volcanic Disturbance—First Time it Has Expelled Ashes.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

HONOLULU, June 11.—(Wire from Victoria, June 11.) Exclusive Dispatch.) The eruption of Kilauea is showing further signs of activity. On the morning of June 11, there was a violent explosion, and from the crater came volumes of smoke shot up, the smoke from a cannon discharge. This explosion was accompanied by heavy masses of sulphurous smoke and a shower of red ashes. About three hours later, there was a second explosion similar to the first.

In all the 25 years that Kilauea has been known to civilized man, this is the first time it has been known to erupt ashes. There have been lava flows from the crater, but never before have there been ashes thrown up.

There was an earthquake along the Hamakua coast last evening, while it did not particular damage, was a severe shock than is usually felt. The Aorangi, which arrived today by way of Honolulu, brings news that at Laupahoehoe in the South Pacific, April 26 there was a severe shock of earthquake extending over many sections.

King Albert of Saxony, who has been ill for some time, has so far improved that the Saxon Cabinet has dissolved its permanent sittings.

HOW THE TIMES TREATS LABOR.

THE LOS ANGELES TIMES pays to its skilled workmen wages that average from $2.75 to $4.50 per day for time work, and from $4 to $5.50 per day for piece work. These rates are higher than are paid by any competing newspaper. The Times pays larger sums weekly, monthly and yearly for labor than any journal in all the Southwest. Its cash disbursements on this account between August, 1902, and the end of September, 1901, aggregated $1,007,000.81, and its annual expenditures for labor of all classes, both skilled and unskilled, now average more than $775,000 per year. There never has been any attempt, in any quarter, to deny these specific and telling facts, and the proprietors challenge such denial if made. The Times has a more skillful, reliable and satisfactory force of workmen than any rival newspaper establishment; and not for years has it had any trouble with its workmen, who are independent of unions, loyal to their employers and to themselves, well satisfied and prosperous. The Times controls its own business in its own way, subject only to the laws of the land; and no interference with that control can be lawfully or justly made. The result of its fixed policy has proven highly beneficial to all concerned, and the justness and correctness of its course have for years past received public approval in most marked and conspicuous ways, the circulation and advertising patronage of the paper steadily and largely outstripping that of all local rivals.

BUSINESS.

The Los Angeles banks yesterday sent credits to the clearinghouse amounting to $1,066,509.95, a sum considerably above the average. The increase is explained by its being the semi-monthly certificate day. For the corresponding day a year ago the clearances amounted to $710,761.13.

Wheat furnished a good market at Chicago yesterday, and weather conditions favored corn. Missouri Pacific and St. Paul led an active list of stocks at New York.

FALSE ECONOMY.

A special dispatch from Washington, published in The Times of yesterday, states that Representative Cannon of Illinois has started out to maintain his record as the great national economist. Economy is a good thing, for nations as well as individuals, but there is such a thing as false economy—penny wisdom and pound foolishness—and it certainly looks as if somebody should forcibly bring this fact to Mr. Cannon's attention. He has selected for the present onslaught three of the most praiseworthy and desirable measures that are now before Congress.

To begin with, Mr. Cannon took a bill of great interest to California, that providing for a transfer of the forest reserves to the Department of Agriculture. They are now under the control of the Interior Department. Mr. Cannon opposed this bill solely upon the ground of economy, and so great an effect did his speech have upon the House that the bill was finally put to death by striking out the enacting clause. This bill, which was urged by the President in his annual message, is a good one, and is much needed to insure the safeguarding of the forests, and to secure the prosperity of the arid and semi-arid regions of the country so largely dependent.

It is intimated that Mr. Cannon will also use his great influence against the international irrigation bill, which comes up today, his opposition thereto being based solely upon the assertion that the United States Treasury will not stand the drain of further great appropriations. This is Mr. Cannon's mistake number two. The campaign for the inauguration of a national irrigation policy which has been waged for several years by the National Irrigation Association, aided by many of the leading newspapers of the country, has at length advanced so far that the urgent need of this movement, and the great benefits which it will confer upon the country at large, are now generally recognized by a majority of the intelligent population of the United States. Recent reports from Washington state that a majority of Congress has almost certainly been secured for the irrigation bill, which has been carefully amended, so as to safeguard the interest of actual settlers. It is approved by the administration. It is approved by a great majority of the public-spirited newspapers of the country. It is approved by enlightened public sentiment, from the Atlantic to the Pacific. It may possibly even be approved by Mr. Cannon of Illinois. There is nothing in the dispatch to indicate to the contrary. His only objection seems to be that national irrigation will cost money. It certainly will. All material things that are worth having cost money. In this case, however, it should be remembered that every cent expended by the government in irrigating the arid lands will be returned to it, with interest, when those

SANITARY WORK IN HAVANA.

The vital statistics of Havana for the month of April, according to the report made by Maj. W. C. Gorgas, Chief Sanitary Officer of the military government, showed the city to be in an excellent sanitary condition. The April report of Maj. Gorgas was the last one made by that officer, as the military government ended on May 20. The death rate for the month was lower than on any preceding April in the history of the city. The lowest previous death rate was that for April, 1900, when it was 23.13. The highest April rate was in 1899—71.88. For April, 1902, the rate was 21.77. The total number of deaths in the city in April, 1898, was 1399; the number in April of this year was only 499. There were 49 deaths from malaria in April, 1898; this year the number was 8. Although smallpox and yellow fever have for generations ranked as the most fatal of diseases in Havana, there has not been a case of the former since July, 1900, nor of the latter since September of last year.

The Times has heretofore had occasion to comment upon and commend the sanitary work performed under the auspices of the American military government in Havana and other parts of Cuba. The final report of Maj. Gorgas shows that this work was kept up faithfully to the end of the military occupation, and that its beneficial results are little less than marvelous. The city is said to be "as clean as the conditions will allow labor to make it." Maj. Gorgas declares that the tenement districts of Havana challenge comparison with any similar habitations in any city of which he knows. It would manifestly have been impossible if the city had been kept in the best possible sanitary condition to have lowered the death rate from 71.88 in 1898 to 21.77 in 1902, which is as low as the average death rate of the larger cities throughout the civilized world.

The stamping out of yellow fever in Havana is one of the most marvelous achievements of sanitary science. The last case of that disease in the city occurred in September, 1901. During the twelve years preceding, the smallest number of deaths from yellow fever in any one year occurred in the yellow-fever year of 1899-1900, the number being 122. The largest number of deaths from the disease in any one year during the twelve, occurred in 1896-97, being 1385. The average number of deaths per year for the entire period was 466. "Our mosquito work," says Maj. Gorgas, "commenced on February 4, 1901. As Havana has never been free from yellow fever before, I think it is a reasonable deduction from the figures quoted that it is now entirely stamped out; and believing that it is only propagated by the mosquito, I do not think it can occur again unless introduced from the outside."

Not a case of smallpox has developed in Havana since July, 1900—which is truly a remarkable showing, when it is remembered that Havana was formerly a center of infection for that disease. Of the prevalence of tuberculosis, Maj. Gorgas says:

"The death rate from tuberculosis continues high in Havana, although not so high as in many of the large cities of the United States and Europe. A comparative table of the rates in Havana and other large cities is contained in the body of the report; also, a table giving the number of deaths from this disease from 1872 up to the present time. This table shows that in 1898 there were 2784 deaths from tuberculosis, the maximum number for any one year; the minimum year, 1886, there occurred 1187 deaths; average for the above period, 1600 deaths. During 1901 there were only 900 deaths from this disease, the lowest figure yet recorded. It is hoped to show a still more marked improvement in the death rate from tuberculosis, if the present system can be continued. The work so far has been very satisfactory. For the year 1901 we had very little over half the number of deaths from tuberculosis that the average for the thirty preceding years represents."

It thus appears that the sanitary revolution wrought by the American occupation of Cuba was not less complete than was the political revolution. If the Cubans, under their new government, keep up the good work, there will be no reason why Havana should not continue to be one of the most healthful cities in the world.

A cyclone has been raging within forty miles of Des Moines, Iowa, and is altogether likely that the editor of the State Register of that city is now doing his editing and blue penciling from the dim recesses of his new cyclone cave, where safety is the first consideration. It certainly must be great fun to run a newspaper from the bowels of the earth, the while those inhabitants who are not wealthy enough to have a safe are being torn in fragments and blown over the landscape all the way from Davenport to Council Bluffs. Our distinguished craftsman at Des Moines has our deep sympathy in his hour of trial by wind.

Whenever The Times makes a good suggestion, it may be regarded as almost certain that it will sooner or later be carried out by some enterprising people who know a good thing when they see it. A short time ago we called attention to the pressing need in Los Angeles of a first-class hospital, where people of moderate means could be treated. As was mentioned in The Times of yesterday, the University of Southern California has undertaken an enterprise of this kind, and will build this hospital, fitted up with all modern conveniences, to be backed by 15,000 members of the Methodist Church in this section. It is intended to be an institution where people of moderate means can have the best medical and surgical attention as the city affords. We presuppose that treatment will not be confined to members of the Methodist Church, any more than the treatment at the Sisters' Hospital is confined to the Catholics, by which religious body it is conducted. The enterprise will doubtless prove a success, as our Methodist friends have a streak of sound business sense running through them, and usually make a success of enterprises which they inaugurate.

The amnesty bill recently signed by President Palma of the Cuban republic has proven of great benefit to those Americans who went over to Cuba and then went crooked. Some thieves and other miscreants appear to be born lucky; particularly one Mr. Neely of Indiana, who was as free with the Cuban postal receipts as if the money grew on bushes. President Palma has done more than most men, with the thing—one a little too much so, as it would appear.

Congressman Cannon has gone off, and as a result California's forest interests have received a withering blast. And now the same piece of "Bucker" artillery promises to blow holes in the irrigation bill upon which this State has been doing much banking. Isn't there some one who has the intrepidity to spike that Cannon? That breech-loading watchdog of the Treasury is hitting us where it hurts.

The atmospheric disturbance continues, and even Southern California is coming in for its share of phenomena in this line. But until we can show up a lively volcano this section of the country will be quite out of fashion. Still, we will be able to bear up even though unable to show anything more destructive than a gush now and then of political hot air that isn't calorific enough to singe a cat.

The Mahsuds have broken loose in India and are chasing the British troops down the warpath hot foot. It seems to be a mighty struggle to get peace working properly all over the world at the same time, but we did presume that those Mahsuds would be the last ones to get hateful and kick up a fuss. It is getting so we cannot rely on anybody to keep from showing off their "dissolutions."

The American polo players are putting up a very good game on the other side, but it is not quite good enough to make them the winners. Well, there ought to be some game that the Britishers can play. They have but few frags of reputation left either as sportsmen, manufacturers or constructors of mergers.

The Ohio Democrats turned down Tom Johnson in the race for the temporary chairmanship of the State convention of that party. Another Presidential boom knocked full of holes that the old thing looks.

It appears that there is no pernicious political activity in the State of Ohio. This is something new for certain.

WHO WOULD BE A KING?

Oh, who would be a king if he could be the supphome man.

With lots of Uncle Sam stock and a slice of Sister Ann?

With gold mines in the mountains of the distant land Peru.

And wound-wire schemes upon the side his neighbors dare to do?

Oh, who would be a king, Mr. If he could have a chance

To pull the purse-strings of his friends and make their dollars dance?

If he could be an elder in a prosperous little church.

And rope its members in and then just leave them in the lurch?

Oh, who would be a king, pray, if he could run a sheet

To slander honest people and boost his own schemes neat?

Oh, who would be a king, pray, to rule or tribe or clan,

If he could be a slippery and scheming supphome man?

IT'S NO MORE THAN FAIR.

THE PHILIPPINES.
NOTHING DANGEROUS IN WATER CURE.
SURGEONS WHO PRACTICED IT ON THEMSELVES.

Glut of Testimony Introduced in Glenn Court-martial—Maj. Crane Pays a Warm Tribute to Accused Officer's Work in Panay.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M. MANILA, June 9.—[By Manila Cable.] The members of the court-martial which tried Maj. Edwin Glenn of the Fifth Infantry who was charged with administering the water cure to Filipinos, have returned to Manila. The court held its sessions at Cebu, on the island of Samar.

The Glenn court-martial refused to admit evidence from places outside of the Philippine Islands, which was brought forward to show that practices similar to the water cure had been conducted by the police of New York City in 1894, when Brig.-Gen. F. D. Grant was one of the Police Commissioners. Gen. Grant was president of the Glenn court-martial. Maj. Glenn, Surgeons Jones, Rhodes and Beal and Lieut. Connor testified that they had taken the water cure, that it was not dangerous, but that it produced a fear of death by strangulation in the man to whom it was administered.

Maj. Charles J. Crane of the Adjutant-General's department testified that, in his opinion, Maj. Glenn had done more than any one man, with the exception of Gen. R. P. Hughes, to bring about the successful pacification of Panay island. Maj. Crane said he considered it impossible to obtain information from natives without coercion, and that he regarded Maj. Glenn's work at Ibabao as the opening wedge which led to the pacification of the first large territory in the Philippine Archipelago.

Lieut. Norman E. Cook of the Philippine scouts, who was tried by court-martial for manslaughter on the charge of having ordered the execution of three natives, denied that he had given orders to this effect, and declared that the men in question were shot without his knowledge, while endeavoring to escape.

The repairs to the United States army transport Summer and the former hospital ship Relief, the latter having been used by Gen. Chaffee for the transportation of troops throughout the archipelago, have been completed at Shanghai, where the vessels have been for the last three months. They will now be sent home to be sold, and it is believed that one of them will go to New York.

PHILIPPINE AFFAIRS.

PRESIDENT WRITES OF THEM.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M. BOSTON, June 11.—President Roosevelt has written a letter to Rev. Charles E. St. John, secretary of the American Unitarian Association, in answer to the secretary's letter transmitting to the President the resolutions adopted at the annual meeting of the American Unitarian Association concerning the situation in the Philippines. The President's letter follows:

My Dear Sir: I beg to thank you for your very kind letter of the 31st ult., inclosing the memorial of the American Unitarian Association passed at their annual meeting May 22, 1902. I am happy to be able to say that the bill which has just passed the Senate, if enacted into law, enable us to proceed even more rapidly and efficiently than hitherto along the lines of securing peace, prosperity and personal liberty to the inhabitants of the Philippine Islands. There is now almost no "policy" coercion in the Philippines, because the insurrection has been so entirely overcome that, save in a very few places, peace and with peace the policy of conciliation and good will, obtains throughout the islands. There has never been any coercion save what was absolutely inevitable in putting a stop to an armed attack upon the sovereignty of the United States, which in its last phases became mere brigandage.

With great regard and assuring you of my hearty sympathy with the purpose set forth in your letter and actuating the members of the American Unitarian Association as regards peace and justice in the Philippines, I am, Very truly yours,

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

DELANY OPTICIAN
309 S. Spring St.

ON TIME FOR ONCE WAS PETE DAILEY.

BUT HE MADE TIME SLIP BACK A FEW PEGS.

Appointed a Rehearsal for Eleven...
O'clock Yesterday and Juggled With... the Call Board to Get There Just the...
Same.

Pete Dailey, the happy chappie who... is doing a head-line stunt at the...
Orpheum, performed a remarkable feat... yesterday. That is, remarkable for...
Pete Dailey.
For the first time in his life the famous... comedian was on time. That is, if you...
take his own point of view and waive...
a few technical points.
They had a little rehearsal. Pete... called it himself. He put it on the...
board for 11 o'clock.
The company ventured to remon...
strate with him at the time.
"Dailey," they said, "you know you... never will be there at 11 o'clock."
"Tush, tush!" said Dailey. "I may... have been born for a night watchman,
but I am on myself. When I say 11...
I mean 11."
At 11 the company had assembled.
There was no Dailey on hand.
Half past 11 came and no Dailey.
The clock crawled round to noon. No...
Dailey.
At ten minutes of 1 he came strolling... in amiably. The company were sitting... on the "props," debating methods of...
assassination of one Dailey.
At the call board Dailey stopped and...
cast a look of deep and silent reproach... at the tell-tale figures. Suddenly an... inspiration came over him. He reached... up and erased one of the figures. Then...
he walked briskly onto the stage.
"Well," he said energetically, "I see...
we are all here on time."
One howl of wrath went up from his...
assembled accusers. "On time!" they...
gasped for breath to make a proper...
presentation of the subject.
"What's that?" said Dailey, with a... severe frown. "Nonsense, nonsense!"
They banged idle words around there...
and Dailey took it all with a martyred...
air. His feelings were hurt.
"I will only ask you to come out and...
see for yourself the time on the...
board," he said at last.
There it was—"11 o'clock."
Out of the depths of contrition, they...
have been offering him tributes of re... morse ever since. They are so sorry...
to have hurt his feelings! Peter walks...
in an odor of sanctity.
Peter came near having another sort...
of walk the day he arrived here.
That was Monday. In the afternoon...
he went to Santa Monica and had a... plunge in the surf. He came home...
leaving his pocket-book in the bath...
house. He is a careful soul.
He was under the necessity of hypo...
notizing the conductor or walking.
It happened that there were two lit... tle boys in the same fix. They didn't... have a cent; had lost their tickets.
They were in tears. Peter felt sorry... for them. He forgot his own troubles.
When the conductor came round and...
asked for their tickets, he interceded...
and asked that they might ride free...
to Los Angeles. He just turned on...
all the eloquence in the shop.
The conductor and the railroad rules...
couldn't stand before such a merry...
kicker as Pete Dailey.
The conductor said it was against...
the rules, but he would think it over...
and come back.
When he came back, he said smugly...
ing, "Well, I will let the boys ride... to the city; your ticket, please."
Then Peter's own unhappy condition...
came over him.
"I'm with these boys," he said, wav... ing the official politely aside.

This is a final clean-up sale of gloves and the price—50c—insures active selling.

KID GLOVES.

There are about 100 dozen of these gloves and they are culled from goods worth up to $1.50 the pair. Most of them have some slight imperfection—so slight that in many cases you cannot find it, even after we have told you. They are so little hurt that neither appearance nor wear is affected and the price for Friday's sale is Only 50c the Pair.

Most of them are in black. There are three clasp in suede and lace, also 5 hook Foster. In the different lines you will find all sizes. Of course if these gloves were really damaged, we could not afford to have them at our glove counter at all. They are simply not quite perfect. That's all. We think so well of this lot of gloves that we will replace or refund the money on any that break the first time trying on. This is as good a guarantee as is given with any glove.

On Sale Friday.

Home-made Bread

Of course it takes more time and more work and more skill to make good, wholesome, home-made bread than it does to make the hastily mixed baker's bread. But then our bread is better—many times better, and the success we are having with our home-made bread is well worth all the extra trouble and work. The best loaf of bread you can buy in Los Angeles is a loaf of Jevne's home-made bread—delicious, palatable, wholesome. Loaves 5 and 10 cents.

7 1/2c

Laces Worth 10c to 25c the Yard.

New Point de Paris and Normandie Vals, in 1 1/2 to 4-inch widths—the dainty, beautiful patterns you're always wanting. Just the thing for trimming white and colored wash dresses, waists, children's dresses and undermuslins.

As many as a hundred patterns, and few of them worth less than fifteen cents a yard. The loss falls on a New York importer who wanted a quick clean-up.

$1.65

Women's $2.00 to $2.50 Wrappers.

Sale limited to Thursday and Friday. If we could get enough to sell right along at that price there wouldn't be any wrappers sold in other stores.

They're exceptionally well made of fine dimities and English percales, in pretty Persian patterns, stylish stripes, neat figures; light, medium and dark colorings, and many handsome black-and-white mourning styles. Made with yoke and pleated back, belt effect and flounce; trimmed with ruffles, braid and stitching.

Scissors

75c and $1 Scissors, 60c; $1 to $1.50 for $1.

Not the cheap, clumsy affairs that can never be made to work right, but perfectly adjusted scissors of strictly high-grade steel, in these three well-known makes: Krusius Bros', Roberts', and Henckels'.

Ordinary shapes in 3 to 8-inch lengths. Buttonhole Scissors, Pocket Scissors, Embroidery Scissors and Tailors' Shears in various sizes.

10c

For 15c Llama Cloths and Batistes.

Two of the bread-and-butter staples of the domestic wash goods business reduced a third. Few can afford to miss this offering.

32-inch Batistes, in white, linen effects and all the wanted tints—dozens of beautiful patterns.
Llama Cloths, soft, pretty fabrics, heavier than lawn or batistes—just the thing for dressing sacques, kimonos, wrappers, children's dresses, etc. White and beautiful tints; figured and striped.

Bathing Suits

Stylish Suits for Women and Children.

Stylish, without being pronounced. Chic, but entirely within the bounds of refined taste. The style is mostly the result of new treatments in ornamentation, and this season's productions certainly are far ahead of anything you've seen before.

Come here to see all the new styles.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Who Has One?

A second-hand sewing-machine is desired by the Associated Charities of Los Angeles county, to be given to a worthy woman who is in need. Secretary T. J. Stuart, room 11 Courthouse, will receive and deliver the donation. Tree fell on him.

Wardle Will Lecture.

Frederick Wardle will deliver a lecture on Shakespeare and his plays at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon next at the Galpin Shakespeare Club, No. 1500 Figueroa street. The proceeds of the lecture will be devoted to the founding of a Shakespeare library.

Returned to Highland.

Charles Howe, who was paroled from the Highland Asylum several weeks ago and who again became insane, tried to kill his wife on South Hill street Monday night, was returned to the asylum yesterday by Secretary Chairman of the police department.

Another Block.

Architects Train & Williams have prepared the plans for a three-story brick building that is to be erected on the east side of Hill street between Second and Third streets just north of the Conservative Life Insurance Building, for the Home Telephone Company, at an estimated cost of about $65,000.

G.A.R. Ladies Entertain.

An entertainment will be given by the ladies of the G.A.R., at Lincoln Hall, No. 1245 South Spring street, at 8 o'clock next Saturday evening, in commemoration of the presentation of the first flag in 1777. Anniversary numbers will form prominent part of the programme. Admission is entirely free.

Murphy Still Moving.

Francis Murphy, temperance apostle, arrived last night from a "blue ribbon" campaign including Ventura, Oxnard, Santa Paula and Santa Barbara, and tonight he will leave for Bakersfield, to begin work there. His permanent work in Los Angeles will begin about September 1, though the details of it are not fully matured.

Was Mentally Unbalanced.

The coroner held an inquest yesterday in the case of Arthur Eysen, who shot himself through the heart at his room on Buena Vista street Tuesday morning. The evidence showed that Eysen had been acting queerly for some days, and the jury returned a verdict of suicide while mentally unbalanced.

Police Will Attend.

The funeral of former Police Clerk James A. Bean will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock at St. Vincent's Cathedral, Washington street and Grand avenue. About half the members of the police force will attend, and policemen will act as pallbearers. The members of the police force will send a magnificent floral design.

Jewish Confirmation.

A class of eight young people was confirmed at St. Vincent's yesterday. This is the time of the annual feast of Shabbath, and is made the occasion of the annual bringing of the young people into full communion with the church. This ceremony is followed by a round of social visits, bearing the date of the confirmation, at the several homes of the candidates.

Protected His Assailant.

E. P. Brendon, who lives at No. 1815 East First street, applied at the Receiving Hospital yesterday for treatment for a long gash on the head. He stated that he had been in a fight and had been fairly whipped and that he had no ill-will against his assailant. He refused positively to say with whom he had been fighting, or where the fight occurred, telling the police that he would not make complaint under any circumstances.

Ivy Planted.

The senior class of the University of Southern California held their class day exercises on the campus yesterday. The feature of the programme was the planting of the class ivy. Two small shoots of ivy were planted against the wall in front of the college building. Above them, in a niche in the wall, was placed a marble tablet, bearing the date and the class roll. The tablet was carved and presented by Frank Van Dyke, a student of the college.

Republican Committee.

The Executive Committee of the Republican County Central Committee will meet this afternoon at the office of Secretary D. C. McGavin, No. 3204 South Spring street, to call on the chairman, Braden W. Lee. Under the new arrangement of precincts, there are eighty-six precincts outside the city, ninety-seven inside, making a total of 183. About forty vacancies in the committee will be filled today. The Executive Committee will prepare a call for the county convention, caucuses and primaries to be submitted to the entire county committee at a date to be fixed this afternoon.

Carrie Nation Remembered.

The Federation of Los Angeles Women's Christian Temperance Unions met yesterday in Varndon Congregational Church. Reports from all the unions in the city showed that 4490 bouquets had been distributed on the flower-mission days. Dr. E. S. Chapman, who was to have addressed the federation, was detained by illness, and a resolution of sympathy and regret was adopted. It was decided to send a letter of love and congratulation to Carrie Nation, just out of jail in Kansas, and one of thanks to Gov. Stanley. The federation voted to pay $10 a month for a year toward sustaining the evangelistic work of Rev. Mr. Whelan and his wife in Temperance Temple. Papers were read by Mrs. H. P. Anderson, Rev. Edward Brooks, Mrs. Celia Noel and Mrs. Anna B. Stevens.

The McComas Girls.

If "Judge" C. C. McComas had been in Detroit last week he might have attended a reunion of his family. His two daughters, who are traveling in vaudeville under different management—Alice Beach McComas, who plays the piano for Fanny Rice, and Fanny Rice and Miss McComas were the headliners, while Carroll, as usual, received more extensive press notices than any other performers on the bill. Speaking of her, the Detroit Tribune said: "The vivacious Carroll, who is billed as the world's greatest whistler, makes a most pleasant impression on the audience. It can be truly said that Miss Carroll's whistling is wonderful. She adds to her act by a Spanish dance, accompanying herself by her own whistling."

BREVITIES.

"Times" Prize Cookbooks. The series of prize recipe contests is closed for the present. All the recipes brought out by it, some 450 in number, by California housewives, including directions for cookies, puddings, salads, picnic luncheons, Spanish dishes, candies and citrus and other fruit preserves, are now printed in the form of a 40-page cookbook, and for sale by The Times and its agents at 15 cents per copy, 4 cents extra if mailed. Send orders at once.

Dental Work. Before going elsewhere come and get an estimate from us. We do first-class work at reasonable prices. Our operators are men of experience. Our crown and bridge work surpasses anything of the kind in the city. We make the best plates for the least money. Has the best of references. Give us a trial. Open day and night. Entire floor 175 N. Spring st., California Medical Aid Society.

Fine cabinet photos reduced to $1.15 per dozen. Sunbeam, 236 S. Main. Dr. B. F. Clark, 233 South Broadway, surgery and diseases of women.

Camp Swanfeldt, Catalina Island, is now open for business.

There are undelivered telegrams at the Postal Telegraph Cable Co., 233 S. Spring street, for A. C. Hull and K. Hiralzum.

The relatives of Ernest Fomkerley are anxious to hear from him. He was last heard from in May, 1901, he was employed at the Royal Restaurant, No. 118 South Spring street. Information may be sent to Vice-Consul Mortimer, Temple Block.

There are undelivered telegrams at the Western Union telegraph office for Miss Kate Rose, G. L. Blithe, Miss Julia French (2), Mrs. J. F. Coyle, John Steiner, Florence L. Rosback, J. W. Weisler, Mrs. J. N. Ritter, Mrs. O. Payne, or Babe Barton; Charles L. McCully, Howard Russell Howland, Dr. Andrews, C. P. Collins, C. G. Pennell, A. A. Leachy, J. L. Elighols, Mrs. C. B. Gribble, Leonard O. Giocone.

LITTLE BOUQUET.

Picked at Early Dawn by Col. Griffith J. Griffith and Brought to the Jonathan Club.

"Don't pick the flowers." The City Fathers have not yet gotten around to put this sign up in Griffith Park, so perhaps Col. Griffith J. Griffith may be pardoned for picking posies on the ground which he so generously donated to the city for park purposes.

If the colonel has violated the law by robbing the park which bears his name of some of its floral wealth, without first saying to the Park Commissioners or the City Council, "By your leave, he stands ready to plead guilty, and perhaps he will be able to scrape together enough money to pay his fine. If the worst comes to the worst, and it is decreed that he go to jail for botanizing in the park, his brother Jonathan will come to the rescue and bail him out, for it is in their behalf that he swiped the bouquet.

Griffith, as is well known, is an early bird. Worms must be plenty, and Griffith Park way, for every sunrise seems him speeding to Los Feliz ranch behind his pair of thoroughbreds. Yesterday morning while driving through the park he spied a yucca palm, or Spanish bayonet, of extraordinary size and symmetry, in full bloom. He stopped his team, cut the beautiful plant, loaded it into his buggy, and drove back to the city, where he delivered the great cluster of fragrant blossoms to the secretary of the Jonathan Club, with instructions that it be placed in the center of the "Joshers" table in the grillroom.

As the Jonathan Club dropped in one after the other for lunch, the magnificent bouquet excited their admiration, and as desired to know whence it came. By and by Col. Griffith appeared on the scene, all unconscious of the annual bringing of the young people into full communion with the church. This ceremony is followed by a round of social visits, bearing the date of the confirmation, at the several homes of the candidates.

COUNTY HOSPITAL KNOCKING
CEASETH TO BE SHOCKING.

GIRL nurses with high-voltage senses of propriety came before the Board of Supervisors yesterday and let the worst be known about the condition of affairs at the County Hospital.
One of the most frightful disclosures related to the way the wife of the hospital steward galloped through the halls in her "nighty" one night when she had a toothache, the hospital authorities failing to put blinders on the male patients, who stood thunder-

It seemed that Miss White's dignity was offended.
When Miss White was excused, Miss Margaret Evans in a white veil and a sailor hat and ulster, took her place.
PERFECTLY "SCANLOUS."
It was Miss Evans who told about the lady in the nighty.
Miss Evans was red, but determined.
"I objected to Mrs. Hebbard's walking around the men's wards in her nightdress."
"I am not exactly familiar with the Miss Evans told of one instance of mismanagement.

She said she was transferred one day to the obstetric ward. She knew nothing about such work, but the first thing found a woman in imperative need of a doctor. She notified Mrs.
Trueman, the lady superintendent of nurses.
Mrs. Trueman forgot all about the case for one whole hour. As a result of her neglect, the woman was badly lacerated.
Miss Evans objected to a lot of things. She objected because patients were allowed to talk back to the nurses; objected because some of the nurses stood around talking to patients and male employees when they ought to have been attending to business. She had one objection all her own.

A GLIMPSE OF THE COUNTY HOSPITAL.
struck in the corridors as she swept by.
Midnight revels at Eastlake, cigarette stumps and champagne suppers and all the rest of that sort of thing melted into thin air.
These thrilling accounts proved to be due to the defective hearing of the Record reporter who thought the nurses were telling him these things, when, as a matter of fact, it seems,
they were not.
The investigation was set for 9 o'clock yesterday morning. Even before that hour the lobbies were jammed with eager spectators.

She objected, if you please, because a medical student came over to the hospital and made a blood test on one of the nurses--on little Miss White, who had just testified.
"May I ask," said Rogers, mildly,
"why you objected to the medical students making a blood test on somebody, if that somebody wasn't you?"
"Because she was in my class," snapped Miss Evans.
"Is there any halo of sanctity around your class?"
"It is not just for ourselves alone that we think," said Miss Evans piously. "It is to our school that we owe it."
"Then you object to having your school's blood tested?"
"Well, I might get sick myself some day," said Miss Evans.
Asked why she didn't tell Dr. Witherbee about the neglect shown in the training of student nurses by taking the good cases away from them, and all the rest of her troubles, Miss Evans said she had a good reason. Once Dr.
Witherbee was asked to arbitrate a little family trouble among the nurses ("a little fun," she called it), and declined to hear either side. He said he would fire any one who told him anything about it.
She said after the beginning of this scandal, Dr. Witherbee got her to sign a paper stating that she had nothing personal against him; she wanted the paper back, and he promised to return it, but went back on his promise.
The serious part of her testimony was that she charged the hospital authorities with neglecting to give proper training to the student nurses. Mr.

MISS UNITAH CARTER, FORMER MATRON.

The hearing did not begin until after 10 o'clock.
Dr. Witherbee, the superintendent of the hospital, was represented by two lawyers, Judge Albert M. Stephens and Earl Rogers, Esq. When they saw this array of legal talent, the Supervisors held an excited confab and dug up Deputy District Attorney Willis to conduct the prosecution.
Dr. Witherbee was considerably excited. He sat bolt upright on the edge of his chair, and seemed at times to be about to climb over the shoulders of his lawyer and do a hornpipe on the Supervisors' table.
A LITTLE MAID.
The first witness called was a little maid with a red shirt waist and a conscience. She used to be a nurse at the hospital, but resigned. Her name is Edith White.
It got so terrible at the hospital that her conscience could not stand the strain, so she gave up her career as a nurse.
Miss White exercised the most sacred prerogative of her sex, and told the real reason for her resignation at the last.

because the nurses used to have social doings with the male employees. She said she used to hear the nurses scuffling about the bathrooms with hospital employees.
Do you consider that subversive or discipline?" asked Rogers.
"I don't think the nurses are there to entertain hospital employees," said Miss Harwood.
MISS CARTER AND DOINGS.
When Miss Unitah Carter came to the stand there were "doings."
Had it not been for Miss Carter there might have been no hospital investigation.
Miss Carter was the former superintendent of nurses at the hospital.
She left there the first of May. Dr.
Witherbee told the reporters that much of the trouble was the fault of Miss Carter. Miss Carter said he had to take it all back. She demanded an investigation.
She said she left because she couldn't get along with Mr. Hebbard, who did not seem to know his business.
She denied the tales of riotous conduct of her nurses. She only heard of one girl who went to Eastlake Park, and she immediately fired her.
But that was not what Miss Carter went on the stand for. Pretty soon she said, "Well, that's all I have to say," and turned on Dr. Witherbee a look that annihilated. It seemed to be up to Dr. Witherbee to say something.
Dr. Witherbee rose majestically in his place, and was sworn to tell the truth.
"I want to state it as my personal opinion," he said, gazing pensively at the landscape most remote from Miss Carter, "that Miss Carter used her influence against me in the school."
"Why?" said Mr. Willis.
"For several reasons," said Dr.
Witherbee, with dignity.

DR. O. O. WITHERBEE.

"Well, the reasons are what we are here for."
He said it was because she had absented herself from important operations; had gone away from the hospital without leave; had been over to the hospital talking to the nurses after her resignation.
He said that after each of her visits rumors were afloat about the breakup of the training school.
All the time he was telling this tale of woe, Miss Carter sat looking him over with cold and silent scorn. She looked him up and down, from top to toe, gently tapping her foot on the floor while he talked.
When he got through, she had her innings.
She accounted for each of the absences. She said she didn't always go to the operations because Dr. Witherbee had three internes and three nurses on deck, and she herself had other fish to fry. She said she had not stirred up trouble, but had begged the girls to be good and obey the new officers after her departure.
"I went to Dr. Witherbee after this came out in the papers," she said, "and I asked why he didn't report me if I did not do my duty. I told him he was deficient in his own duty if he allowed me to be derelict in mine, as he said."
"He said he not only did his duty, but mine, too," she said.
"I told him the test of his efficiency was not the work he did himself, but

Soft Clingy, Black Grenadines

There is a stately elegance about a black dress that colors cannot produce, and moreover it is absolutely essential to have at least one black dress in your wardrobe if you wish to move in most polite social circles; for there are functions where color is entirely out of place. To supply this demand, there is no textile which presents a better appearance, yet affording the coolness of all sheer textiles, as a handsome black grenadine.

45-inch Black Silk Grenadine—lustrous satin finish in large patterns in scroll and vine effects; also large and small figures with ribbon stripes; made of double twisted sewing silk; bought to sell at $2.00 a yd. Priced as a leader at per yard.....

45-inch Black Silk Grenadine—a new shipment of fifteen pieces just received—all of exceptionally fine, thin, sheer weave with satin ribbon stripes, both wide and narrow effect; or a plain iron frame weave; both of lustrous black; both of pure sewing silk and equally pretty over colored or black linings. They are actual $1.50 values priced as a leader for today at per yard.....
